can boast a vast amount of experience in recreating that magic that deep purple made famous throughout the 1970s to this present day, and are one of the only deep purple tribute bands to master this. purpendicular bring their professional tribute show on the road with young virtuoso guitar player joe 'dr' dolbhofer (25). every musician in 'purpendicular' has been carefully chosen for his technique in recreating the sound and style of every deep purple performance whether it be the richie blackmore ,tommy bolin or steve morse era, and further more every musician is a true fan of deep purple. on two occasions has vocalist robbly thomas walsh fronted ian paice (the legendary original deep purple drummer) throughout european tours as well as keyboard player stoffi kögler who has played with ian paice in 2002, as well as tours in ireland, holland, austria, croatia & germany. improvisation is a must when recreating deep purples live material. 'purpendicular' ensures their audience that every musician in the band thrives on improvisation regardless of the set list being played. so each night the audience gets a different show even if the set list remains the same. every member in 'purpendicular' is a fully professional musician. all have played at international level and can guarantee a pure authentic fascinating deep purple show for all fans young and old.
